Berkeley Software Distribution Usage

HTML for BSD Acronym

when BSD means Berkeley Software Distribution

New! Now updated with the inheritance rules for the title attribute in HTML 5

The easiest way to create HTML code indicating that the acronym BSD stands for Berkeley Software Distribution is to simply include the acronym in an HTML `` tag and an abbreviation tag (not an acronym tag):

<a href="http://www.Acronyms.net/terms/b/Berkeley-Software-Distribution/" title="Berkeley Software Distribution" onclick="if (confirm('BSD stands for Berkeley Software Distribution')) return false;"
>
<abbr>BSD</abbr>

This is the recommended code for both HTML 4 browsers and HTML 5 browsers. Some browsers, most notably IE, do not activate help when the title attribute is coded on the `<abbr>` tag, but they do work as expected for titles on the `` tag. The `<abbr>` tag inherits its title attribute from the parent `` tag.

If you are creating HTML code for the definition of Berkeley Software Distribution, the meaning of the acronym BSD, then include a <dfn> definition tag around the <abbr> abbreviation tag and follow the entire HTML code for the hypertext link with the definition of the term:

A <a href="http://www.Acronyms.net/terms/b/Berkeley-Software-Distribution/" title="Berkeley Software Distribution"
onclick="if (confirm('BSD stands for Berkeley Software Distribution')) return false;"
>
<dfn><abbr title="Berkeley Software Distribution">BSD</abbr>
 is ...(definition of Berkeley Software Distribution)....

The `<dfn>` tag gets the term being defined from the title attribute of the `<abbr>` tag. The result should look like this (hovering your mouse over the BSD acronym shows the expanded meaning of the acronym):

A BSD is ...(definition of "Berkeley Software Distribution")....

If you are creating HTML code that simply expands the acronym then indicate that it is the BSD acronym which is being defined using an HTML `<dfn>` tag with a title attribute around the `<abbr>` tag and follow the HTML for the hypertext link with the acronym definition:

When we use the acronym <a href="http://www.Acronyms.net/terms/b/Berkeley-Software-Distribution/"
title="Berkeley Software Distribution"
onclick="if (confirm('BSD stands for Berkeley Software Distribution')) return false;"
>
<dfn title="BSD"><abbr title="Berkeley Software Distribution">BSD</abbr></dfn>
 it is the abbreviation for Berkeley Software Distribution.

The result should look like this (hovering your mouse over the BSD acronym shows the definition):

Berkeley Software Distribution

When we use the acronym BSD it is the abbreviation for Berkeley Software Distribution.

Acronym Vocabulary URI Declaration

For the remaining examples, the Acronym Vocabulary namespace URI needs to be declared for use with element tag names and attribute values. For an HTML web page, the beginning of the file should look like this:

```
<?xml version="1.0" encoding="UTF-8"?>
<!DOCTYPE html [
<!ENTITY at "http://Acronyms.net/terms/">
<!ENTITY av "http://Acronyms.net/vocabulary/">
]>
<html xmlns="http://www.w3.org/1999/xhtml" xmlns:av="&av;">
<head>
<style type="text/css">
.hide { display: none }
</style>
```

...

This only needs to be done once per document file.

URI Reference for Berkeley Software Distribution

URI Reference for Advanced Webmasters

This page is intended for advanced users, such as developers who are creating XML documents or building Semantic Web sites, who want to code their own simple or extended links, or RDF metadata. For all other purposes, the HTML hypertext links, which show the proper usage of URI References, should be used instead.

In RDF or XML documents, refer to the abstract concept of Berkeley Software Distribution using this URI reference:

<http://Acronyms.net/terms/b/Berkeley-Software-Distribution>

or, declare the &at; entity as shown below and use:

&at;BerkeleySoftwareDistribution

Note that a URI Reference is case-sensitive, and that www. is omitted since it is not intended to be a web-accessible resource.

Use the following URL to refer to the web page that defines this term:

<http://www.Acronyms.net/terms/b/Berkeley-Software-Distribution>
